

Creating a Singing Space at Home

Why is a “Singing Space” important?

- Picking the right place will help you sound your best in a recording.
- You want to feel comfortable to sing out loud, not afraid or timid.
- Just like the choir room is a safe place, you need to create a safe place at home to complete your singing assignments and grow musically.

The Ideal Singing Space

- Private: You want a door that you can close, so you will not be disturbed by parents, siblings, or pets while you sing.
- Carpet: A room with carpet will offer better acoustics and improve the quality of your recordings.
- Fans/Heaters: You will want to turn off anything that makes extraneous noise while recording your assignments. (For every day practice, you can keep your fan or heater on.)
- Lighting: If we're recording video, we need to be able to see you. Facing a window or lamp will help to make your face more visible. Try to avoid having a light source behind you.

Your Assignment: Record a video showing your singing space on FlipGrid

- Click on the Flipgrid link on your assignment
- Sign in with your student email.
- Watch Mrs. Bishop's video on Flipgrid, showing my singing space.
- Using the tips shared with you, choose your singing space and respond with a short video explaining your choice.

